REFERENCES

1. The Polish government is building a large shipyard designed for river vessels at Rogi (Rogau-P51/X98) near Kozle (Cosel) on the Oder River which, when completed, will be the largest one in Poland (sic). The new yard is on the site of an old one originally designed as a repair yard. About 2,000 workers are employed on the construction of this yard. At present they are working on the trusses for the shipyard halls.
2. A platform for the unloading of trucks and railroad cars is also being built as well as a new wide road with granite block surface. No further details are known.
